Freshman Building

THIS IS CHANNEL '52

Bringing you a re-issue of the year's activities as filmed at Ben Davis High School by B. D. Tele-Vision.

The daily programs were produced in the classrooms, under the guidance of a staff of fifty-three directors.

Almost thirteen hundred actors (students) were housed in two studios, the freshman and senior buildings.

Six maintenance men and women cared for the 62 rooms in which activities took place, a group of seven women provided excellent food in two cafeterias.

Beside the regular daily schedule, many programs took place after school and in the evenings, putting the broadcasting station on a 12 to 16 hour schedule.

Cheerleader tryouts and Christmas pageants were part of the B. D. television broadcast for 1951-1952.

During the spring, R. O. T. C. Review was a colorful demonstration of what the boys have learned in military tactics.

B. D. Tele Vision introduces the program schedule of 1951-1952.

B.D. TV PROGRAM—7:45 A.M. . . .

By 7:45, both the senior and junior buildings came alive as the actors (students), in our Ben Davis television broadcast, arrived in buses and cars.

Daily, during the 1951-52 school year, study halls were filled to capacity with students who had spare time between their programs (classes).

Some studied, some daydreamed about the night's date, and some made sure their make-up was on correctly.

After learning their lines, our student actors presented their final performances to their teachers. Spanish students recited for Mr. Ted Pierson.

For information on all subjects, for research, and for recreation, the library was a popular place.

Five thousand two hundred and fifty-four volumes on its shelves provided the answers to almost any question.

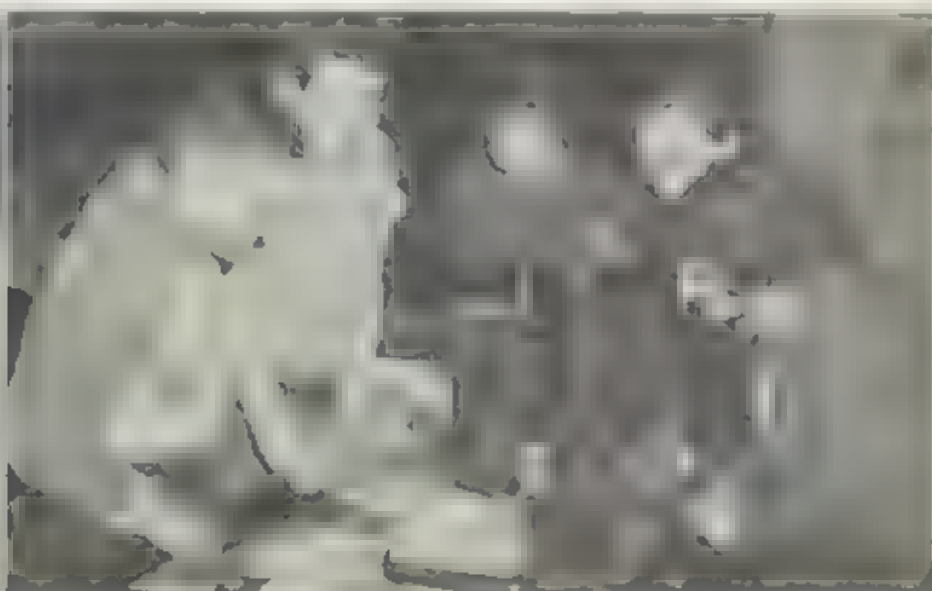

Classrooms Were Filled to Capacity with Student Actors

Two typical classes on the schedule were geometry and typing instructed by Mrs. Helen Pancer and Mrs. Flora Faust.

In another room seniors were prepared for post-graduate living under the guidance of Mr. Paul Ritterskamp, in Economics.

At the same time, in the freshman building, Biology students study another kind of life, taught by Mrs. Elizabeth Crider.

B.D. TV PROGRAM—3:00 P.M. . . .

As soon as the day's schedule of classes was completed, "Life After 3" started.

Latin Club meetings acquainted the members with ancient Roman rites. One of these, the taking of the auspices, was faithfully enacted by S. P. Q. R. officers.

Barbara Bartlett, Wayne Delt, Carolyn Barnhart.

Scripture quiz and fasting campaign was one of the pleasant features after a Quill and Scroll (honorary journalism society) initiation.

Seven members were honored by selection this year.

Charles Rex, P. S. J. Moore, Robert Montgomery, Carolyn Smith.

Meetings of the girls' Sunshine Society were the largest of the afternoon gatherings.

Officers planned many interesting programs for the first Thursday of the month.

Norma Nachoff, Carolyn Barnhart, Rose La Malowe, Carolyn Burkett, Barbara Dreyer.

A familiar 3 o'clock scene was practice for basketball, king of Hoosier sports. Our gym provided ample space for the scores of basketball-struck boys to work off the steam of their enthusiasm.

Practices, Club Meetings, And Juke Box Dancing Filled the Afternoon Hours

And then, of course, there were the athletic contests held on average of once a week all year.

Fresh cheerleaders led their class mates in rooting for a basketball team that won the Freshman Marion County Basketball Championship, in a night game at the Butler Field house.

B. D. TV PROGRAM — 7:30 P. M. . . .

Dances, Plays, Athletic Games, and Parent-Teacher Meetings Kept School Open Eight Hours

During the year, both formal and informal dances were held at the school. On various occasions the barnlike gym was transformed into a Hawaiian scene, an old-time plantation, and a lovely Chinese garden.

As the smartly dressed couples entered the Senior building, they were checked in by faculty members to make sure that no outsider "crashed" the party.

Miss Mary McLane is "ticket taker" at the Sunshine dance.

Parent Teachers' Association met the third Tuesday in every month for a program and business meeting in the Senior building. Once during the year the Junior building played host. Every year the organization sponsored a Fall Festival to provide funds for a gift to the school.

In the spring of 1951, a fine press camera was purchased . . . many of the Keyhole's pictures were taken with it.

The picture shows the past presidents who were honored recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vance, and past P.T.A. presidents Mrs. C. E. Bingman, Mrs. George Gaddy, Mrs. Mary Alice Gott, Mrs. William Wise, Mrs. H. Hadley, Mrs. Albert Hig, Mrs. Orville Shockley, Mrs. Arthur Marksbury, and Mrs. Carl Freund.

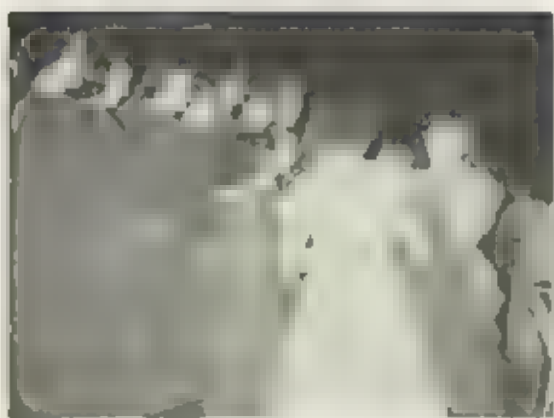

Both the music and dramatic departments sponsored plays, variety shows, and music festivals.

Gary Ringlespaugh taught his "children," in "Cheaper by the Dozen," how to take a bath. Mother, Mary Jane Butler, was rather skeptical of the results.

This was one of the delightful plays produced by the Dramatic Club in 1951

The largest of the studios, the gym, was the scene of spirited athletic contests, night after night, during the school year

One of the year's most colorful ceremonies was the night the senior Purple-aires gave their robes to the newly elected members

SOME EVENTS WERE TRADITIONAL IN OUR SCHOOL

The Ben Davis television broadcast contained many programs that were repeated daily or weekly. Some happened only once during the year.

Miss Kennedy daily sold lunch tickets, juke box dances were held in the freshman building weekly, and annually, fourth-year people thrilled over measurements for senior jewelry.

The music and dramatic departments planned programs to be given many nights during the school year, R. O. T. C. boys drilled along the road outside, boys' and girls' gym classes had strenuous work-outs, clubs met, day-by-day class work brought the coveted diploma closer.

Yes, the B. D.-T. V. Broadcasting Studio was a busy place.

Angela Deloff and Joe Berry reigned as God and Silver Keys at the Quilt and Scroll's annual Hillbilly Hop.

Our Broadcasting Studio Was "Open for Business" Sixteen Hours a Day Most of the School Year

THESE SCENES WERE A FAMILIAR PART

Whenever tickets for athletic contests or plays were to be sold, the cubbyhole opposite the office was opened during fifth period. Usually Mrs. Harker, office clerk, did the selling but occasionally a teacher would pinch hit for her.

On this day, Miss Nina Martin made change for Diane Baker and Richard Belcher.

Crowded lockers held everything, including gym suits, coats, food, books, and an accumulation of old papers. Some were fancy with built in "dressing room" mirrors.

A few, like the one inspected by Jack Jester and Nancy Thompson, were neat.

OF OUR TELEVISION SCHEDULE AT BEN DAVIS

A familiar sight was Miss Hazel Kennedy selling lunch tickets at the entrance of the senior building cafeteria.

Dancing in the gym was popular with the Frosh after lunch. They had their own juke-box which supplied lively jitterbugs and other 1951-52 favorites.

Two new teachers on the faculty contributed to our enjoyment this year.

The senior cafeteria was a cheerful place, mainly through the energetic efforts of our new manager, Miss Mildred Senour. She colorfully decorated the big basement room to fit the seasons.

Miss Helen Phillips, gym teacher in the junior building, was responsible for obtaining the Frosh jukebox that made possible a weekly dance and noon recreation.

A different kind of TV program was the x-ray. To be sure that Ben Davis students were free of tuberculosis, the school gave periodical T. B. chest x-rays. These check-ups were free and also provided a good excuse for getting freshmen girls.

ANNUAL EVENTS ON THE SCHOOL PROGRAM WERE T. B. X-RAYS AND THE FRESHMAN PARTY

Members of the Sunshine Society lived up to their motto of service by giving a party for freshman girls.

Five upperclassmen made clever favors.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT PROVIDED THE

Music is 's' wonderful, s' marvelous' and the Purple aires just 'can't help singing.' These students poured out their hearts in song to audiences in churches, at state wide meetings, for fraternal organizations, and at school programs.

Extra special zip and spice were added to plays, athletic events, and various convocations by the A' band.

ACCOMPANIMENT FOR OUR DAILY BROADCAST

For fourteen years, Mr. Omar Rybolt has furnished the musical background for our Ben Davis television programs

Under his direction, the Purple-Aires became an organization with a reputation extending far beyond our school and community.

The band he directed is a colorful part of school life also.

Everyone who took classes in room 201 remembered how attractive it was with its pictures, painted by Mr. Rybolt, its potted plants, and the cheerful drapes at the windows.

TV ARTISTS HAD TO KEEP PHYSICALLY FIT

Basketball, baseball, dodge-ball, volleyball, rhythmic dancing and calisthenics were all a part of the girls' gym classes.

The boys had a somewhat similar schedule.

The two classes were held at the same time, but a sliding curtain separated the big gym into one unit for boys and one for girls.

On the east side, Mrs. Kathleen Shaw's voice could be heard giving directions; on the west side, Mr. Howard Wood coached his boys.

At 2:30 the curtains were opened and another group took over. Sometimes it was wrestlers practicing on the mat; sometimes it was basketball boys patiently preparing for participation in scheduled competition.

Two players on the girls' basketball team jump for an elusive ball.

Mr. Howard Wood checks the boys' ability to "ride a horse."

INSTRUCTIONS IN DOMESTIC ARTS, FARM MAINTENANCE

Miss Harriet Wilkenson explained a fitting problem to Colleen Welch and Angelina Deloff

Mr. Dwight Cottingham helped Ag boys Tammy Alexander, Chester Freeland, Don Scott, and Harlan Gillespie

A large Home Economics department provided training in costume designing, classes in cooking, sewing, home management, and health

Ag boys learned more than how to judge vegetables, raise crops and feed stock. All the problems of farm maintenance, such as welding, building of furniture, and blacksmithing were included in their daily program.

ART, AND WOOD WORK PROVIDE FOR FUTURE TRADES

Students in the Art department often found it difficult to find time to do their own work, for they were kept busy making posters, signs, and decorations for other classes and organizations.

But in addition to these valuable services, many lovely paintings were completed and other artistic projects undertaken under the guidance of Mrs. Faye Nelson.

Saws and other machinery hummed busily most of the day in the basement workshop, supervised by Mr. Kenneth Hayes, new to the school this year.

Besides making things for themselves, the boys performed odd maintenance jobs for the school.

THE NEWSPAPER STAFF MET DEADLINES

Room 206 was one of the busiest, happiest and noisiest rooms in the building. Spotlight and Keyhole staffs shared a totally inadequate small room with English IV classes.

Something was always getting lost, good-natured heckling and arguments went on constantly, but a great deal was learned about running a business, working on one's own initiative, getting along with other people, meeting a deadline, and accepting responsibility for one's mistakes.

THE ANNUAL STAFF LEARNED THE PUBLISHING BUSINESS

Publishing the Keyhole was an all-year every-day activity. From the time the book was planned by Betty Watts and Carolyn Lincks at I. U. summer school, until the last piece of copy went to press in April, work went on steadily.

Bette Pelkin and Helen Freund scheduled senior photos and made up pages, Sue Schoenemann was responsible for juniors, Joan Bothwell, for sophomores, and Carolyn Wells for freshmen.

Norman Young planned the sports section of the book, Shirley Engleman wrote the rest of it. Bill Tobias took all the pictures that L. S. Ayres had not photographed, Jim Helfer, Carl Rudicle Don Beasley and Betty Watts sold ads.

Everyone helped on the various projects such as candy sales valentine deliveries, Hillbilly Hop, and sale of mums at games. Patsy Taylor, Ruby Costelow, and Dixie Markin helped collect circulation money.

By the middle of April, the staff relaxed. But already another group had started work on the 1952-53 annual.

Stage Managers Contributed to Success of Daily Programs

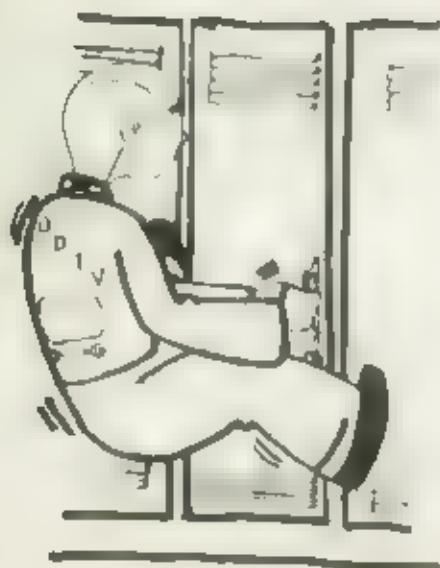

Behind the scenes of any production, there are stage managers who do much to promote the smooth functioning of that performance. They do an important part of the work, but seldom share the spotlight.

Our stage managers (student assistants) are pictured on the following pages.

The office crew did small jobs, from delivering messages to typing honor rolls, gaining valuable experience that will be helpful in later office work

Some actors (students) may have gone through high school without entering the clinic, but not all of them held up so well. Anytime anyone felt ill or needed first aid, the clinic girls were ready to help.

Our research department (library) was very popular with the actors. Themes for new programs (classes) and material for leisure reading were all found there in systematic order.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES WERE AN IMPORTANT PART OF OUR TELEVISED PROGRAMS

Channel '52 presents the lighter side of the Ben Davis TV daily schedule in review. After the more serious programs of the day were completed, actors took part in extra-curricular activities such as meetings, dances, plays, rehearsals, and initiations. Faculty members supervised these organizations.

Dramatic club members furnished plays and programs, Sunshine, and Hi-Y performed services for others; such clubs as math, Spanish, photography and Latin tied the daily lessons in with interesting side-lights. Thespian and Quill and Scroll gave recognition to outstanding people in dramatics and journalism

Vegetable Judges prepared future farmers for their chosen professions. The extra-curricular part of the Ben Davis television schedule was highly important

Mr. Vance, Mr. Girton, and Mr. Rybalt, were "crowned" by Latin Club members at the regular spring dinner

Clubs played an important part in the lives of our actors. Latin, Spanish, Photography and Math clubs supplemented the daily work.

Quill and Scroll and Thespian were honor organizations for journalism and dramatics, Sunshine and Hi Y promoted service ideals in its members, and Booster club members loyally backed the athletic teams.

School plays and programs were special projects of the Thespian and Dramatic Clubs.

Last year's schedule began with the vaudeville show at the Fall Festival. Later, "Cheaper by the Dozen" and "Room for One More" took their places in the list of successful plays put on by Mrs. Elsie Ball's talented dramatists.

At Christmas a one-act play, "Guests for Dinner," contributed to the season.

Participating in the county Drama Festival, at Tech, Ben Davis actors brought home an "Outstanding Actor Award" won by Gary Ringlespough, and an Honorable Mention won by Donna Andre.

In March, Dramatic Club members were hosts at a formal dance, entertaining their alumnae in a beautifully decorated "Colonial Garden" gym.

OF SERVICE TO SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY

The Sunshine Society is an all-school, all-girl club. In September of 1932, Miss Esther Williams (now Mrs. Steindorff) organized the local chapter with 25 girls. The club has increased to an approximate enrollment of 300.

Active members of the club participate in a variety of interesting projects, among them—contributing to the Riley Fund, packing Christmas boxes for the needy in the community, sending Red Cross boxes to the service men overseas, sending gifts and cards to shut-in students, and operating a booth at the Fall Festival as a contribution to the P. T. A.

The Society also sponsors, along with the other Sunshine organizations in the state, a scholarship for student nurses, along with a summer camp which girls may attend.

This organization sponsors two dances a year, the Hi-Y-Sunshine dance usually held at the Y. M. C. A., and the big formal dance held in the spring. The latter is something every Sunshine girl looks forward to all year.

Math, Spanish, And Science Clubs Made Those Subjects Interesting

Trialge (Math), Bi-Phy-Chembo (Science) and El Revezo (Spanish) clubs flourished during the 1951-1952 season.

Trialge members decorated their annual Christmas tree for the cafeteria. They also sponsored trips to a bank and to the courthouse.

The El Revezo was very active in Pan American Day celebrations. To help raise funds to assist in rebuilding the Mt. Olive Methodist Church, the club sponsored a show. Also the club made a contribution to the Polio Fund.

Bi-Phy-Chembo members enjoyed "after hours" experimenting. A novel puppet show explained the uses of photo-electric cells. Films were sometimes shown at meetings.

HI-Y PROMOTED Y. M. C. A. SERVICE IDEALS

Many projects were undertaken by Hi-Y, a branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, last year.

Under the supervision of Mr. James Shockley, dean of boys, the Hi-Y Club clothed a family of 8 at Christmas. They also gave food and toys to about 20 persons.

At the Fall Festival, the club sponsored a booth, and the proceeds from the sale of coxes during the basketball season went to their treasury.

Field trips were taken to Officers Training Camp at Fort Rock and to the Hi-Y Conference in Connersville.

LATIN CLUB MADE OLD ROME LIVE AGAIN

Latin Club (SPQR) recreated an ancient civilization and made it seem to live again. Members went through old Roman ceremonies at initiations, even to the extent of wearing togas and robes.

The climax of the year came with a Roman banquet in the spring. From the taking of the auspices at the beginning of the festivities at the final entertainment, everything was in keeping with Latin customs.

Vegetable Judges and Quill and Scroll Enjoyed Pleasant Associations

One of our newest and smallest clubs is the Quill and Scroll International Honor Society for High School Journalists. Sponsored by Mrs. Kathleen Kerman, this organization, made up of members of the Keyhole and Spotlight staff, has as its main project the annual "Hibbly Hop," one of the favorite school dances.

THE BOOSTER CLUB BACKED OUR TEAM

*To brag little, to lose well.
To crow gently, if in luck.
To pay up, to own up,
To shut up if beaten,
Are the virtues of a sporting man*

This was the motto printed on the back of Booster Club membership cards.

The club was organized three years ago by Mr. Bernard Dewitt. This year two new sponsors were added, Miss Helen Phillips and Mr. Trent Gipson.

They, along with Mr. Donald Hansell and Mr. Jerry Dewitt, helped supervise the activities of the club.

All students who wished to help back their team were eligible to become members. It was one of the largest school clubs, with an approximate membership of over 500.

The annual dance, called the "Twerp Dance," provided funds for purchasing a Westinghouse drier for the use of the athletic department. The club also presents sportsmanship awards to the best athletes.

DURING 1952

Top man on the imaginary "totem pole" was David Miller, president of the Booster Club. Mary Jane Butler served as secretary-treasurer of the club, and the "bottom man" was Richard Lepper, vice-president

These officers, with the aid of several committees, were responsible for many fun-filled evenings, and for the promotion of better sportsmanship at Ben Davis

PHOTOGRAPHY KEPT THEM "IN THE DARK"

In its second year, the Photo Club was saddened by the loss of its sponsor, Mr. William Shutt, who took a position with a business firm.

Mr. Leland Mills, science department head, stepped into his place and carried on ably. Members were taught all about photography, from the clicking of the shutter to the final enlargement.

Selling Christmas greetings personalized with photos, and Christmas wrapping paper, earned money for the club treasury.

Members of the court were Richard Roberson, Norma Barker, Norman Young, David Marksberry, Rosemary McKern, Lucille Wilson, Roberta Marlowe, and Leon Jones.

THE JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM CLOSED THE YEAR'S SOCIAL WHIRL

One of the biggest shows of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom. Stagehands, actors, and directors alike, worked long hours to make this production a success. For it was there that the academy awards of popularity were awarded in the crowning of the king and queen. A big night in the lives of the upperclassmen that will be long remembered as the "show of shows."

The actors, dancing in a Hawaiian background to the music of Buddy Webb's orchestra, brought to a close the year's programs.

"AFTER 3" ACTIVITIES CONTINUED UNTIL LATE AT NIGHT

Nine dances have become a regular part of the winter schedule.

This last year, Sunshine girls decorated in the Cinderella theme, Dramatic club members were entertained with a Colonial Ball, and Quill and Scroll's usual Hillbilly Hop depended on the colorful costumes of the dancers for its atmosphere.

Prom guests traveled to Hawaii for an evening of glamor.

Freshmen had a western Round-Up and Sophomores decided upon Ya Old Hoe-Down.

Booster, Masuda (magazine dance) and the farewell party dances did not bother with decorations.

"Hey round the corner!" "Swing Your Partner!" "Four hands up and around you go!"

All you needed for a good time at the annual Hillbilly Hop was a strong heart and good lungs.

Formal dresses were prettier than jeans, and corsages were cherished gifts, but both types of dances were fun.

ON THE SPORTS SCENE . . .

Enthusiasts enjoyed watching a varied athletic program last year.

Seven sports were distributed over the school year. The first part of our program which took place during the fall, presented football and cross country.

The second part was during mid-winter, and included basketball, wrestling, and bowling. We concluded with the spring sports of baseball, track, and golf.

Actors, technicians, and directors worked smoothly together to present a worthwhile schedule of athletic programs for Ben Davis Keyhole T. V. viewers.

Our campaign of sports got under way with our fall sport of football taking the spotlight with full fury

An essential part of every television schedule is the sports program, and Ben Davis offers a wide variety in its athletic department.

POWERFUL GRIDMEN OUTSCORED OPPONENTS 177 TO 72

Ben Davis got off to a good start by defeating Decatur Central 19-13. The Southport game was a real thriller. It was a hard-fought battle all the way, but our rugged Giants lost to the powerful Cards, 6-0.

Coach Lou Parnell's team bounced back to win the next two games by a total of 62 points; while their opponents, Warren Central and Pike Township, could manage only 6 points against our Giants. In the annual rivalry game against Speedway, Ben Davis was upset with 14-7 as the final score.

Led by Dave Marksberry, the aggressive Giants defeated the highly respected Howe Hornets for the second straight year at Tech. The score—28-21. We won our next two games, 21-6 and 40-6, to conclude a successful season, from Manual and Beech Grove, respectively.

Among our outstanding gridiron seniors, Dave Marksberry and Don Hagar stood out. Dave made the All-County team but didn't stop there; his achievements gained him statewide recognition, by being named All-State, 2nd string, fullback. Don had knee trouble all season, but managed to make honorable mention All-State this season.

UP AND COMING UNDERSTUDIES

The Ben Davis reserves led by a crew of sophomores lost only one game, won four, and tied three. Coach John Masariu is doing a fine job in preparing the inexperienced gridgers for varsity competition.

WELL BALANCED OFFENSE SMOTHERED FOES

Coached by Jerry De Witt our Ben Davis varsity basketball team posted the best season record in the history of the school. The team, made up of two seniors, seven juniors and one sophomore, wound up the season with 17 wins and 4 losses. The most thrilling victories were over such standout teams as Howe, Washington, Southport, Broad Ripple, Manual, and Speedway. The defeats by Franklin Township in the County Tourney and by Decatur Central in the sectionals were most disheartening. The Giants also re-wrote the record books of the school with 11 straight victories before our shorthanded Giants were defeated by a "red hot" Shortridge team at the Spartans' gym.

Norman Young and Leon Redenbacher, senior veterans, served as co-captains. Ronald Ragan, junior forward, and Leon Redenbacher, guard, led the scoring with 273 and 272 respectively. Getting 31 points against Lawrence Central in the Sectional, Ragan also had the high game of the year. Ragan was voted a spot on the all-sectional team while Redenbacher gained honorable mention on the all-county squad. The Giants defeated Decatur Central on February 1, 1952, to regain possession of the Dope Box which they defended successfully in defeating Speedway and Lawrence Central. The Dope Box will remain in the Ben Davis trophy case until next season.

Giant Frosh Won County

Under the watchful eyes of John Masariu our frosh won the county championship for the third consecutive year. The scoring consisted of a well balanced attack led by Jimmy Stevens with 128 points, who was followed closely by Tommy Crowe, Fred Stegemoller, and Bob Clubb. Our overpowering freshmen won 14 and lost 4.

Fast Breaking Reserves Excelled

Behind the excellent coaching of Bob Cloyd our reserve team won 11 and lost 7. Coach Cloyd is to be complimented on his teams, in the 3 seasons he has led the reserve. The reserve strategist has had three winning teams of Sophomores playing against teams composed of sophomores and juniors. This year's scoring was led by Ed Weil with 112 points in 12 games, and followed by Tom Kepler. Our reserve team is to be praised because of their desire to win, and their never say die attitude.

TRACKSTERS EDGED OUT OF COUNTY

ROW 1—Bill Howell, Ronnie Smith, Clifford Cunningham, Robert Moch, Charles Williams

ROW 2 Bill Townsend, Student Manager, Carl Fuller, Dick Stewart, Bill Taylor, Gaton Allen, Bill Tobias, Ed Plum, Ronald Morris, Mr. Lou Parnell, Coach

Lou Parnell's cinder men did a fine job last season. Led by the boy with the "springs" in his legs, Gaton Allen, our speedsters won all but two of their meets outside of the county and the sectional tourney meets. At Bloomington in the Hoosier Relays, Gaton set a new high jump record. He won sectional, regional, and state final honors for Ben Davis.

Our Giants were edged out of the county tourney by Warren Central in the last event of the meet.

Ben Davis experimented with Cross Country this year under the guidance of Coach Donald Hansell. Led by Jerry Rushton, our distance men showed great possibilities for the coming year.

Coach Hansell is expecting a larger turn-out next year, and he will also have his athletes come out sooner.

Under the fine coaching of Howard Wood, the Ben Davis Giants won the first County Baseball Tourney. Up until this year, the champion had been determined by the league play. Ben Davis has won the championship three out of the last six years, and finished second the other three years. The overall record is 55 wins and 15 losses.

Bill Arnold, Jim Backer, Bob Phillips, and Monte Shambaugh were the graduating Seniors on last year's team. Jim Backer led the team in hitting with an excellent .467 batting clip. Bill Arnold did a fine job in the field, completing his fourth year as varsity shortstop. Shambaugh and Phillips were fine utility men.

Ben Davis is hoping to have one of the strongest teams in the state this year. Also, in addition to the four Seniors, we lost three pitchers who were expected to carry a large portion of the pitching load. However, the ace of last year's pitching staff, Leon Redenbacher, is expected to do another fine job, with veteran catcher, Norman Young

WRESTLERS GAINED VALUABLE EXPERIENCE

Our wrestling team in their second year of varsity competition showed a great improvement over last year's grunt and groan men. The two outstanding wrestlers on the squad were Charles Bradfield and Don "Babe" Pratt, both boys are juniors and will be back next year. Our grapplers participate in matches with schools all over the state.

BOWLING

Each Wednesday afternoon approximately forty Ben Davis bowlers made their way to the Speedway Bowling Alleys to engage in the fun-filled intramural sport of bowling. Mrs. Louise Williams and Miss Mary McLane generously gave their time to make sure the league was handled properly. Georgenne Cassidy posted a 215 and in doing so her efforts won her a pin from the American Junior Bowling Congress.

CAREFUL PLANNING PAID OFF

Any television program is judged, not only by its actors, but also by the smoothness of its stage management. Ben Davis is fortunate in having these skilled men as directors. They are the brains of the Ben Davis Giants. Their hard work has paid off in a highly successful athletic program. These men have placed Ben Davis at the top of the county sports parade. Our victory minded coaches carried our purple and white banner to one county championship in baseball; two runner-ups in track and football, and our basketball record was by far the best of the county schools. That's what our coaches did in our four major sports.

But behind the scenes, the seldom heard of student managers worked long hard hours after school. They took care of and washed the athletic equipment; swept and mopped the floors, and listened to and took care of the gripes and groans of our athletes. Our student managers were the fall boys of all the athletic activities in the school. The boys deserve special praise for their work.

TEACHERS, STUDENTS, AND MAINTENANCE WORKERS MADE UP OUR CAST

On the following pages we have pictured our entire cast as they appeared in the 1952 presentation.

First, the teachers who supervised our programs (classes), sponsored our clubs, and helped us plan our lifetime careers.

Second, the maintenance crew, who were in charge of keeping our studio clean and warm, and the ladies in the cafeteria who served us nutritious and enjoyable meals.

Third, our senior actors (students) who have given their last performance at B. D. studio. The understudies (underclassmen), who will replace them, follow.

These were the people who made possible the re-presentation of B. D. programs on Channel '52.

B. D. Tele Vision seemed to be having trouble with too many lessons, as a lot of students did.

THESE MEN GREETED NEWCOMERS TO OUR BROADCASTING STATION

Mr. Bernard Dewitt, Mr. Leland Mills, Mr. William Girton on phone

New members of the Ben Davis television cast were greeted by Mr. Bernard Dewitt, vice-principal of the freshman building

Mr. Leland Mills, vice-principal, saw to it that each actor (student) had a locker to keep his equipment in, and that the lunch lines moved efficiently through the cafeteria.

The technician in charge of scheduling programs (classes) for each actor was Mr. William Girton, registrar.

These three men were very helpful in keeping things at the B. D. T. V. studio running smoothly.

Mr. Charles Vance, principal of Ben Davis High School since 1920, smiled genially when asked to pose for the camera.

OUR T. V. STUDIO HAD FIFTY-THREE TECHNICIANS

Our technicians were a busy crew. Besides a long day of supervising programs, they spent many of their own precious hours sponsoring extra curricula activities, helping on door duty at games and dances, and transporting students to conventions and meetings.

FOUR YEARS AT BEN DAVIS ENDED ON MAY 28

Senior class officers of the June class are Norman Young, Leon Redenbacher, Mary Jane Butler, and Peggy Forston. Standing are the officers of the 12A January class, Rosemary McKern, Charles Koontz, Carole Hart, and Tommy Kiritsis.

As we look back on our high school days we see ourselves as eager freshmen. High school was a new and pleasant experience for most of us. Four years seemed like a long time then, but now we are proud seniors.

The highlight of our freshman year was the freshman party which was built around a circus theme.

The 9A class officers were David Marksbarry, Kathleen Adkins, Bob Kurtz, and Sara Ritter; the 9B officers were Jack McClain, Ann Thomas, Robert Mitchell, and Betty O'Key.

After summer vacation we looked forward to entering the senior building as sophomores. The 10A's elected David Marksbarry, Betty Watts, Kathleen Adkins, and Don Farmer as their officers. The 10B's elected Robert Wilbur, Barbara Cafouras, Delores Pepelia, and Bob Britt.

Our junior year was filled with many activities. The 11A officers were Larry Moon, Lois Burks, Don Hagar, and Margaret Froelich. The 11B's elected Leon Redenbacher, Mary Jane Butler, Don Farmer, and Gaidene Christie.

To make money for the Prom, we sold popcorn and cokes at the football games and sponsored skating parties at Riverside. For the Prom we decorated the gym to represent a May flower garden.

Now that we are seniors we look back with pride and satisfaction to our days at Ben Davis. We started the year by electing our officers. The 12A's elected Tommy Kiritsis, Rosemary McKern, Charles Koontz, and Carole Hart; the 12B's elected Leon Redenbacher, Mary Jane Butler, Norman Young, and Peggy Forston.

We were all proud to wear our senior jewelry. Then came the ordering of announcements, name cards, and caps and gowns. We will always remember the excellent basketball season, the senior play, and the Prom.

It's all over now . . . but we feel a sense of accomplishment that we have never felt before.

WE PAUSE TO PAY TRIBUTE TO OUR SPONSORS

Many thanks go to the local businessmen who helped make possible the re-presentation of the Ben Davis television programs from Channel '52.

These businessmen, many of them Ben Davis alumni, have been loyal backers of our publications; advertising in both the Keyhole and in our school paper, the Spotlight.

The annual staff hopes that its readers will patronize these business places in the future, and back them as they backed us.
